President Sonny Bono? In a country with Vice President Dan Quayle, many things are possible--but President Sonny Bono?...

In the world of The Last American, President Sonny Bono not only is possible, but is a part of American history. In the second issue of this four-issue limited series by John Wagner, Alan Grant, and Mike McMahon, readers will see just what happened in the final days of the Bono presidency--and how those events led to the creation of the Last American project. Last American #2 isn't just another trip down memory lane, though; this issue also introduces another survivor of the holocaust.

The third issue takes the Last American to Virginia, where he hopes to find out if the radio messages he's been receiving indicate that others have survived...or if it's too late. Everything wraps up in mid-January with Last American #4, as Ulysses S. Pilgrim, the Last American, finds out if there are any other humans alive on Earth.

Each issue of The Last American is priced at $2.25.

Dracula's Future at Eternity Far From Grave

Dracula may be dead, but interest in the vampire isn't dying out--in fact, it seems that 1991 will be a banner year for Bram Stoker's immortal character. Eternity has two different Dracula projects on line for the first half of 1991--and one of them adapts a classic tale by Stoker himself!

Stoker's short story "Dracula's Guest" will be adapted as a comics one-shot entitled Dracula: The Lady In the Tomb. This book will be written by Steven Phillip Jones and illustrated by Robert Schneiders, the same team who adapted the Dracula novel as a comics miniseries last year.

"This one-issue adaptation will be a much leaner story than the four-part Dracula miniseries," Jones said.

The story deals with Jonathan Harker's first encounter with the undead; it was originally intended to be the first chapter of Stoker's novel, but it was deleted in an attempt to shorten the book. Stoker died while preparing an anthology of his short stories; his widow recognized that this story could stand on its own, so she included it in the 1914 volume of Stoker

"It's a very spooky story that stands by itself very well," Eternity creative director Tom Mason said. "Robert is inking himself on this particular project and he captures the atmosphere perfectly. It's definitely a spine-tingler." Dracula: Lady in the Tomb is on Eternity's January 1991 schedule.

In the spring of 1991, Dracula meets Harry Houdini in The Ghosts of Dracula, a five-issue limited series by Martin Powell and Seppo Makinen. Set in London of the 1920's, the story brings Harry Houdini to assist in the investigation of mysterious murders that leave the victims drained of blood. Houdini is certain that Dracula is behind the murders--and judging from the title of the limited series, his suspicions are undoubtedly well-founded! Houdini isn't the only Dracula-hunter, though: Doctor Abraham Van Helsing is also investigating the deaths.

"We're very excited about this series," Eternity Editor-in-Chief Chris Ulm said. "Ghosts of Dracula brings back the new look at Dracula that Martin made so vivid in Scarlet In Gaslight. And Seppo's highly detailed art continues to improve, capturing the Roaring Twenties with breathtaking accuracy."

"When Martin Powell approached us with the proposal of a Dracula-Houdini story, we couldn't say no," Dave Olbrich of Eternity said. "It's not often that a series comes along that is a hit with both critics and fans. But with Martin, it's something you can expect time and time again."

What does Eternity have planned for Dracula in the second half of '91? Their response is cryptic--but you can be sure that Eternity will give Dracula fans something else to sink their teeth into before the year is out.

Everything Old Isn't New (Mutants) Again

About a year ago, the creative team on New Mutants announced that the book was going to go through some serious shake ups pretty quickly. They weren't kidding!

Starting with New Mutants 98, a storyline begins that will result in an all-new team replacing the characters currently in the book. "We didn't want people to think that we weren't going to do things in the book," New Mutants artist Rob Liefeld said, "but it has taken us some time to get things to the position where we were ready to take the steps that we wanted." These steps involve leaving Wolfsbane in Genosha after the X-Tinction Agenda, sending Rictor off to find her, and forcing Sunspot to grow up and take over his father's estate after he dies under somewhat dubious circumstances.

"It's a big shake-up," Liefeld stated. "The book had gotten to the point where everybody knew these characters, and no matter what was done with them, they would still be considered the 'X-Babies.' Claremont and Sienkiewicz couldn't even take that rep away from them, so we're going to go in a new direction." The book is now being plotted and penciled by Liefeld and scripted by Fabian Nicieza of New Warriors fame. "Fabian is great to work with." Liefeld told me. "He and I hit it off from the very beginning, and he writes great stuff. It's really been fun."

But who is scheduled to replace the discarded members you may ask? Well, some of them are familiar faces. James Proudstar, formerly known as Thunderbird of the Hellions, is going to join up, changing his name to Warpath; also, a familiar-looking character by the name of Shatterstar will be added to the team. "I want to make one thing clear-- he isn't Longshot!" Liefeld stated. "Shatterstar is a member of the same race that Longshot is, but that's where the similarities end. He's more like Longshot would have been if Mojo had never gotten a hold of him." One of the new members comes to the team seeking sanctuary from the Morlocks-- her name is Feral. "She's really great--sort of a cross between Nightcrawler and Tigra. I have a lot of fun drawing her." Liefeld said. The other new member to join is a mysterious figure from Cable's past. She is a super-spy along the lines of the Black Widow named Domino. "Domino adds an extra dimension of experience to the team--sort of a back-up leader for Cable. Plus, she calms Cable down a little, and acts as a mother figure for the kids." Liefeld explains.

That leaves the New Mutants new line-up as: Cable, Boom-Boom, Cannonball, Domino, Warpath, Shatterstar, and Feral. New Mutants 98 and 99 are entitled "The Beginning of the End," with New Mutants 100 sporting the title, "The End of the Beginning." New Mutants 98 also introduces what will prove to be the major villain for the New Mutants for the foreseeable future-- Gideon. Gideon is described as "a cross between John F. Kennedy Jr. and Billy Idol, except he's a mutant with the ability to gain whatever power is needed to aid him at any given moment." New Mutants 99 introduces the villainous bounty-hunter Deadpool, who is out to claim the price on Cable's head. "I have got an as-close-as-you-will-get-for-awhile origin story for Cable in the wings, but Deadpool and Domino are both likely to answer some of the questions floating around about him." New Mutants 100 is a double sized issue that brings Mojo into this dimension looking for Shatterstar and bringing this new group together as a team.

What's going on after that? Well, the New Mutants are going to be running across Black Tom and the Juggernaut, Magneto, S.H.I.E.L.D., and the Avengers, among others. "I like to call the writing style I'm using the 'fast-forward' approach. Kind of what-if John Byrne met Frank Miller, if you can imagine that." Liefeld said.

"I'm also creating a more father/son relationship between Cable and Cannonball. The addition of Domino will calm Cable down somewhat, and Sam and Cable will become more and more bonded to one another as they come to rely upon each other. I'm trying to take this book in new directions."

The change in cast is likely to tremendously boost interest in the "overlooked" mutant title, so readers might want to be on the lookout for the New New Mutants beginning in December!

Private Detective Nguyen Ready For High-Caliber Action

Billy Nguyen, the Vietnamese detective who briefly starred in his own series from Attitude Zone Comics a couple of years back, is taking on cases once again--but this time, he's setting up his offices at Caliber Press, where he'll star in a new full-color limited series.

The storyline in Caliber's first Billy Nguyen limited series, "Black and White and Dead All Over," was originally announced by MU Press earlier this year. Before MU Press could publish those issues, the book relocated to Caliber, where publisher Gary Reed says that this series is the first of several Billy Nguyen projects. Caliber says that John Hartman, Stephen Byrd, and Stan Shaw are already at work on a special issue in which Billy Nguyen suffers a head injury that ultimately leads to his believing that he's Sherlock Holmes.

Billy Nguyen: Black and White and Dead All Over calls Billy Nguyen in to assist the Seattle Police Department's investigation of a bizarre dual murder. Somehow, both victims were drained of all color! What better way to kick off a full-color series?...

At the same time Caliber releases the first issue of the limited series, they'll also ship a Billy Nguyen Graphic Novel collecting the three early issues published by Attitude Zone. Stan Shaw, the artist of the series since its early days, is supplying a new cover for the 96 page volume.

Billy Nguyen #1 is priced at $2.95; the Billy Nguyen Graphic Novel is priced at $9.95. Both books are scheduled for December release.

PEREZ READIES TO PICK UP THE GAUNTLET

George Perez has made excitement over at DC for years now; this spring, he'll generate more of the same when he moves to Marvel to illustrate Jim Starlin's major cosmic series The Infinity Gauntlet. This series, which may be a biweekly, is being described by insiders as the ultimate cosmic-hero extravaganza.

If you don't want to wait until next spring to get a dose of cosmic drama, then Marvel has good news for you! One of the most popular of all cosmic heroes, Adam Warlock, is returning to the Marvel Universe in Silver Surfer #46. The Surfer and Drax are trapped inside Warlock's soul gem, where they meet the souls of previous victims who have been absorbed into the gem--including Pip, Gamora, and Warlock! This major storyline will continue into Silver Surfer #50, where the action jumps to The Infinity Gauntlet. The action begins on December 20th.

A TURTLES COMPILATION WITH A DIFFERENCE

Previously, every Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles trade paperback has compiled the early stories from the Mirage run of the title. When Tundra Publishing offers their trade paperback, though, there'll be an important difference: rather than featuring the often-seen Mirage issues, this collection will compile the Turtles stories from the pages of the first five issues of Archie Comics' Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles series. These stories, which are in much the same mood as the cartoon series, feature work by Dan Berger, Ryan Brown, Dean Clarrain, Michael Dooney, Dave Garcia, Ken Mitcheroney, and others.

The Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles Trade paperback will contain, in addition to the reprints of TMNT #1-5, a new airbrushed cover and a new ten-page origin sequence created especially for this issue. Tundra adds that "Steve Lavigne is recoloring the entire contents with breathtaking new full-color pages to create a visually superior presentation." The book will also feature an introduction by Eastman and Laird. Tundra sees this as the first volume in a series of semi-annual reprints.

SHALL WE PREY?...

Dark Horse's Predator II movie adaptation is all ready for December release to coincide with the upcoming film--but a month before the film debuts, Dark Horse will give readers of Dark Horse Presents an advance look at how John Arcudi interprets the Predators. Arcudi has been selected as the writer of the second Predator series from Dark Horse. His first Predator story, appearing in November in DHP #46, is illustrated by Rob Walton.

"It's just a small taste of the forthcoming Predator series set for a 1991 release...which will be illustrated by Evan Dorkin," DHP editor Randy Stradley said. "Along with all the great stories inside, this issue of Dark Horse Presents has a beautiful full-color cover featuring a lone Predator, illustrated by Dave Dorman and Lurene Haines. It should not be missed!"

DHP #46 also features the final chapter in Ron Harris' Crash Ryan storyline and an all-new Bacchus story by Eddie Campbell. It carries a $1.95 pricetag.

BROTHERMAN FINDS A HOME IN THE BIG CITY

Guy Sims and David Sims are quite aware that there are all too few black superheroes in the comics field--so they chose to create their own. When they first conceived of Brotherman: Dictator of Discipline, they didn't expect coverage in the national news media to create such a strong national demand for their new title, though.

"Brotherman is unique in that it is the only illustrated comic magazine on the market which features a black hero, with his own title, set in a fantasy world composed of unmistakably ethnic characters, and produced by an African-American publishing company," writer Guy Sims said. After the book was premiered at the Black Expo in New York City, it received news attention, including coverage on CNN that generated tremendous interest in the title.

Big City Comics, the publisher of Brotherman, is a family business; writer Guy Sims and artist David Sims are joined in the venture by their brother, business manager Jason Sims. While the story is set in the fictitious "Big City," the Sims brothers have based the setting on Philadelphia of their youth.

"The villains he battles are icons of different concepts, like greed, seduction, and social apathy," Jason Sims said.

"He's a vigilante--but from our perspective," David added. "We don't judge whether Brotherman is right or wrong; we just get into his mind. Each issue of Brotherman is priced at $2; two issues have been released so far, and should be in comic shops nationally in the very near future.

THE BEST AND WORST OF TIMES FOR IRON MAN...

Remember a couple of years ago, when Tony Stark was crippled and readers were told that his handicap would become a part of the storyline in Iron Man--only to have him magically restored to full vigor in a few issues? Well, this time Iron Man editor Howard Mackie is insisting that Tony Stark will indeed be permanently crippled; Armor Wars II will bring about this major change in Stark's life. Mackie says that Stark will remain crippled for "as long as I'm editor"-- and Marvel's Kurt Busiek says that Mackie is in very good health and seems very happy with his job, so don't expect him to leave the book any time soon... In the meantime, Iron Man #266, on sale January 24th, will reveal just what the future has in store for Tony Stark, courtesy of writer John Byrne and artist John Romita Jr.

DREDD-ING THE HOLIDAYS

Judge Dredd fans may have never known that there was a Judge Dredd syndicated comic strip. This strip, written by John Wagner and Alan Grant and illustrated by Ron Smith, features the same sort of ultra-tough Dredd action that Dredd's fans have found in his own comic. Since few American fans have been able to enjoy the comic strip, Fleetway-Quality is collecting a 144-page heaping helping of these strips into a single oversized hardcover appropriately entitled The Judge Dredd Mega-Collection. This massive volume, published in horizontal format, is slated for December release, making it a great holiday gift idea.

THE VERDICT IS IN

Martin Powell and Dean Haspiel's tough-as-nails series The Verdict, already set for reprinting in graphic novel format in November from Caliber, will be returning in a series of new adventures as well. Powell and Haspiel have prepared Verdict installments for inclusion in Caliber Presents 16-18 and 20-22; this new series should begin at about the same time the original series collection appears. The Verdict will grace the cover of Caliber Presents #17 in a painting by Patrick Oliffe. Haspiel should have ample time for drawing in the near future; he recently told CSN, "I'm getting operated on my right knee to remove metal hardware from a 'falling-off-a-3-story-building' accident. The pins and wires in my knee have snapped, making it difficult for me to walk," but thankfully he's able to continue illustrating. He also reports that he's working on his first script, a comic idea that CSN will tell you more about as soon as Haspiel chooses a publisher for the project.

CAT CLAW WILL BECOME FULL SERIES

Eternity's European import comic Cat Claw has just debuted in comic shops across the country--but advance reaction has been so strong in favor of the series that Eternity is already upgrading the book to full series status.

"The response from the fans, retailers, and distributors was so strong from our initial announcement," publisher Dave Olbrich said, "that we immediately decided to do more than three issues...We're just going to go full steam ahead, from what would have been the end of the mini-series, just as we did with Planet of the Apes. There will be a Cat Claw #4 instead of a new #1." Cat Claw, the creation of Yugoslavian artist/writer Bane Kerac, manages to poke fun at various superhero cliches while telling action-adventure tales sure to appeal to superhero-comics fans.

NEWSBRIEFS

HAPPY HALF-A-CENTURY!

Captain America 383 is a gala issue--because it'll appear exactly fifty years after the Golden Age Captain America 1 debuted. To commemorate the event, Cap 383 will be a 64-page special issue featuring four stories as well as pin-up pages. In the lead story, Captain America is thrown to a dimensional portal where he meets such legendary heroes as Paul Bunyan, Pecos Bill and John Henry. These heroes are glad to have Cap join them permanently--but he has to die first... Mark Gruenwald, Ron Lim, and Danny Bulanadi bring readers this legendary adventure.

The second story, by Tom DeFalco and Ron Frenz, is a retelling of the first time Captain America met Sgt. Fury and his Howling Commandos. Longtime Marvel fans remember seeing Sgt. Fury's version of the story in Sgt. Fury & His Howling Commandos 13; this time around, you'll see the same meeting from Captain America's point of view.

The USAgent stars in the third tale, in which has to deal with the repercussions of the damage he did to Left-Winger and Right-Winger. The fourth tale recounts the first meeting between Red Skull and Crossbones.

Jim Lee and Ron Lim have produced a special cover for this 64-page issue--and as you know, anything that Jim Lee produces is hot nowadays!

NEAL'S ILLOS ENTER THE TWILIGHT ZONE

You may have noticed that the Now Comics' Twilight Zone Special Edition #1 didn't follow a week after the regular Twilight Zone #1 as Now had originally said it would. The problem, it seems, was with the Neal Adams illustrations for the bonus Harlan Ellison story featured in the prestige-format special edition. Now was unable to get the illustrations to accompany the story; rather than continue holding up the book, they've chosen to release it without the Adams illos--but it will contain the bonus short story nevertheless.

MAYBE NEW KIDS' REVOLUTIONARY WAR ISN'T QUITE OVER...

A couple of issues back, we reported that Todd Loren of Revolutionary Comics had reached an agreement with the lawyers representing New Kids on the Block; as a result of that agreement, Revolutionary would not ship any further copies of the New Kids comic, and the New Kids would drop their suit. Revolutionary had originally planned to replace the New Kids on the Block issue of Rock & Roll Comics with a special New Kids Hate Book; it now appears that the New Kids Hate Book will also be abandoned as a part of the agreement with the New Kids' law firm. Revolutionary Comics will not feature any New Kids comics material in their publications.

THREE'S A CHARM...

Planet of the Apes has been a phenomenal success for Adventure; after the company offered a regular edition, a special limited edition, and a second printing of the regular edition, the demand is still strong for the first issue of the title. As a result, Adventure has done a record-setting third printing of the premiere issue. "To avoid confusion, each printing has distinguishing marks on the cover," Adventure's Dave Olbrich said. The first printing has a yellow logo (along with alternating blue, green, and yellow promotional flaps); the second printing has a white logo with no promotional flap; the third printing has a tan logo with no promotional flap; and the limited edition has a different cover and is individually numbered.

X MARKS THE SPOT!

It's been over two years since CSN first told its readers about Barry Windsor-Smith's Weapon X project. Now, at long last, we can give you a date for this long-awaited Wolverine series by one of comics' most popular artists. Marvel Comics Presents #72, on sale January 24th, will begin the thirteen-part Weapon X serial--and Marvel's already calling it "one of the most important Wolverine stories ever, giving fans a close-up look at what turned a man named Logan into Weapon X and finally, into the hero Wolverine." Weapon X is fully produced (written, pencilled, and inked) by Barry Windsor-Smith, and it's the first time there's ever been a true Wolverine origin story. Marvel had said that 1991 would be the Year of the Mutant--and it looks like they're determined to prove that they're right!

OMAHA FANS GETS SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW IN TPB

The Collected Omaha Volume 4, a December release from Kitchen Sink, will collect Omaha the Cat Dancer 11-14 in a single volume--but it will also feature a new eight-page story by Kate Worley and Reed Waller. The new eight-pager takes place when Chuck and Omaha first began dating; Chuck meets Shelley for the first time, who then tests him to see if he's good enough for Omaha.

Collected Omaha Volume 4 will be released in trade paperback for $15.95; there will also be a signed limited edition hardcover priced at $28.95.

RALLY ROUND THE FLAG

Rick Flag may not be a part of the Suicide Squad any longer, but his legacy continues to drive the group; readers will see just how strong his legacy is in the appropriately-titled "Legacy of Rick Flag" in Suicide Squad #50. John Ostrander, Kim Yale, Geoff Isherwood, Luke McDonnell, and Grant Miehm present a story that covers the entire fifty-year history of the Suicide Squad. It also presents a special Suicide Squad team chosen by Amanda Waller; Nemesis, Nightshade, Bronze Tiger, and Deadshot will play a role in this storyline.

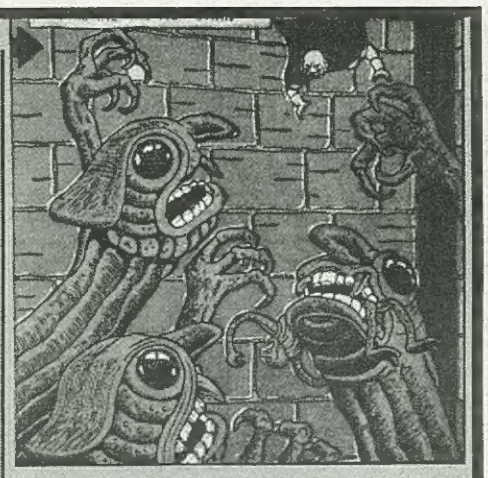
Don't think this is just a flashback issue; readers will also learn the secret of Koschei the Deathless in this 48-page issue. Look for it on January 10th.

THE SOUTH SHALL RISE AGAIN!

The Southern Squadron miniseries is coming to an end later this year--but thanks to the tremendous reader response to the series, the Southern Squadron will be back in action for another four-issue miniseries in 1991.

"The Southern Squadron did very well for Aircel," publisher Dave Olbrich said. "Its success come right on the heels of Silverstorm and Cat & Mouse,a nd has given Aircel some very solid numbers in the superhero genre."

"We're pleased as well with the US response to the Squadron," Dave de Vries said. "We're glad to be coming back." CSN will bring you more information about the second series as soon as arrangements are finalized.



BASIL SPICES UP ARCHIVAL PHOTOGRAPHY WINTER SCHEDULE

Robert W. Brosch's Archival Photography will offer a second issue of Basil Wolverton's Space Funnies this December; like the first issue, this book will be reproduced in full color on 70lb. coated enamel stock with 80lb. varnished covers, creating a hefty, high-quality package. The artwork is reprinted in "super-astro-color," offering a lush, rich palate that rivals the color reproduction found in hardcovers like The Complete Little Nemo in Slumberland In Color. Space Funnies #2 will reprint Wolverton's Spacehawk stories from Target Comics #8-10, offering fans a chance to see this rare material without paying the hundreds of dollars the original issues would cost. It will also feature a special selection of nine color photos of the late Basil Wolverton at home, featured with the cooperation of Wolverton's family. Space Funnies #2 will be priced at $5.95.

NOVEMBER

BATMAN™ by Loebs, Infantino & Nyberg

THERE ARE TWO COINS! TWO! I CAN'T DECIDE!
10·22·90
THEN I'LL DECIDE! FOR ALL OF US!
WAK
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
HOLD IT!
IT'S GORDON!
10·23·90
AM I GLAD TO SEE YOU! HARVEY DENT IS INSANE!
I KNOW. I SHOULD'VE LISTENED TO YOU, SGT. MUNI... BEFORE HE CORRUPTED HALF THE FORCE!
AFTER THE TRIAL OF TWO-FACE...
THEY CONVICTED HIM, BRUCE. WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO HIM NOW?
HARVEY IS OBVIOUSLY INSANE, ALICE. THERE'S A NEW FACILITY THAT JUST OPENED...
"IT'S CALLED ARKHAM ASYLUM."
MY COIN... YOU DON'T UNDERSTAND, I NEED MY COIN!
10·24·90
I WAS A CRIMINAL, A THIEF AND A MURDERER...!
AND THEN, I SLIPPED THROUGH A CRACK IN THE LEGAL SYSTEM... I WAS SENT HERE...
BECAUSE I WAS INSANE!
ISN'T THAT RIGHT, MR. DISTRICT ATTORNEY?
10·25·90
SO, HURMPH, DEAR CITIZENS OF THE JURY...WE CANNOT ALLOW THESE CRIMINALS, THESE FIENDS IN HUMAN FORM...
...TO USE THE INSANITY PLEA! WE ALL KNOW INSANITY IS NO EXCUSE...!
10·26·90
ISN'T THAT ABOUT THE WAY IT WENT, HARVEY OL' PAL?
SHUT UP, JOKER. JUST SHUT UP!
WELL, THEY SAY HARVEY WILL GET THE BEST TREATMENT...
AND HE CERTAINLY COULDN'T REMAIN FREE...
BUT I CAN'T STAND THE THOUGHT OF HIM ALL ALONE IN THAT PLACE...!
10·27·90
"I DON'T THINK HE'LL BE ALONE, ALICE."

ACID, HAS BECOME
YOU! YOU'RE THE CAUSE OF ALL THIS!
NOW I GO UNDERGROUND! I SHALL BE THE SPIRIT OF EVIL IN THIS CITY!
HERE! USE THIS ONE!
CHINNG
ONE EVIL IS SHOWING AND ONE GOOD SIDE! I DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO...

HARVEY DENT, HIS FACE DEFORMED BY THE CRIME BOSS OF GOTHAM.
I CAN'T LET HIM ESCAPE!
TWO-FACE! DON'T YOU NEED YOUR COIN?
YES! MY COIN... MY FORECAST OF GOOD AND EVIL. WILL I KILL YOU ALL OR LET YOU...?
I DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO...
OH, HARVEY. POOR HARVEY...
BUT WE KNOW WHAT TO DO, DON'T WE, BOYS?
ASSUME THE POSITION AND WAIT FOR THE FOLKS IN THE NICE BLUE COATS!
